

Michael M. Feigin
Managing Director

Current Responsibilities

Michael is the Global Construction Industry Practice Leader. He leads a dedicated team of industry specialists and subject matter experts in the following disciplines:

- Contractors and Subcontractors
- Wrap-ups (Contractor and Owner Controlled)
- Architects & Engineers

Michael is involved with insurance program design and implementation and he assists with risk analysis and consulting solutions. Significant risks face Owners, Contractors, Subcontractors and Design Professionals that are specific to their industry focus, and Marsh is partnering with them to identify and implement solutions.

Experience

Prior to joining Marsh, Michael was Executive Vice President, Chief Administrative Officer of Bovis Lend Lease Holdings, Inc., the parent company of all Bovis Lend Lease operating companies in the Americas. Bovis Lend Lease is a global construction management firm, with over 7,000 employees and offices in over 35 countries. In his capacity as Chief Administrative Officer, Michael was responsible for Commercial Risk Management, Legal Services, Insurance and Bonding, Human Resources, Information Technology, and Corporate Affairs. Michael was the past President of Canopy, Inc., Lend Lease's Captive insurance company, and was on the Board of the WTC Captive, the insurance company established to cover liability at Ground Zero. Mr. Feigin also held the following positions at Bovis Lend Lease: Head of Risk, General Counsel, and General Manager of the Northeast Region. Michael also was a Development Director for AvalonBay Communities, one of the largest residential REITs in the United States. Michael has significant experience in the real estate and construction industries, with emphasis in the risk management needs of both large global, as well as smaller regional real estate, design and construction companies.

Education

BA – Yale University
JD – Brooklyn Law School