Upcoming Events With Rice Speech and Debate

The George R. Brown Forensics Society, Rice's speech and debate team have three upcoming events in addition to their usual competition around the country. These events are part of the team's efforts to contribute to campus and community discussion of events that are shaping our world. Please tune in to watch or make time to participate in these events with Rice's award-winning team.

Talk Show Appearance
On October 18, at 9:00 p.m. Rice debaters will appear on the local late night talk show “Late Night Latte” and will participate in a public debate about issue in the upcoming election against local rivals Texas Southern University. They will also participate in a public debate between local party officials from both major parties.

Hosting Scholars Debating Race, Language, and Politics
On October 27, at 4:00 p.m. in HUMA 117, the George R. Brown Forensics Society and the School of Humanities will sponsor scholars from The Project on Race in Political Communication (www.raceproject.org). The scholars will debate the topic “Who Can Use the N-Word?” Look for more upcoming announcements about this important event.

Public Debate Versus Trinity University
On November 10, Time and place TBA, Rice will debate Trinity University on a current events topic to be determined. This is the third year of the series of debates between the two affiliated institutions. Each Fall semester, Trinity travels to the Rice campus and each Spring semester, Rice travels to Trinity. Look for upcoming announcements about this exciting event!