Action Item Report

ACTION ITEM TITLE: MBA Class Ring

BRIEF DESCRIPTION: A few MBA students expressed interest in getting class rings when they graduate, but wasn't sure whether this was possible.

DATE REPORTED: 9/29/2004

JSA REPRESENTATIVE ASSIGNED: Gerhard Golden

RESOLUTION STEPS: There is a general requirement for undergrad students to at least have 90 credits/hours in order to be able to order a class ring. However, after speaking to Diana Sewell, it was determined that grad students only have to fulfill degree requirements in order to qualify.

ADDITIONAL DOCUMENTATION: E-mail correspondence

Please check this Rice website for the explanation of who can order a ring. I think you qualify. <http://www.ruf.rice.edu/~stumedia/rings.htm>.

Don't forget you can order a ring at anytime from the bookstore.
Any other questions, let me know. Diana

Hi Diana,

My question was this: I am a graduate MBA student. When I graduate next May, I will have 60 credits and not the required 90 according to the brochure. I did not attend Rice as an undergrad. So, if your answer still holds, I will go ahead and order the ring. If not, please let me know.

Mr.. Golden. I found out that if you are in the business program if you are in your 2nd year you may order a ring or if in another program and you have fulfilled your degree requirements you may order a ring. Is that what you needed? If not call Jen Cooper at X5828 at the school and she can answer your questions.

Thanks, Diana
